Administration Appeals Student Demonstrations

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is an official action by the Board of Trustees of the University of Utah, concerning the student activities last Wednesday.

The near mob action of a number of students in the residence halls last Tuesday night was most regrettable. Nine of the most active participants have been questioned and have been referred to the Dean of Students for disciplinary action. These students were actually detained on the spot and identified by security officers.

SOME PERSONS have dismissed the incident lightly as a prank, but the administration does not consider it such. Any kind of disorderly crowd action which leads to irresponsible acts and which always carries to the verge of serious damage and must not be tolerated on this campus.

This University, operated on the highest standards of morality and conduct, has no place for students who foment such disturbances and they will be dealt with accordingly.

THE UTAH CODE defines a member of an "unlawful assembly" as anyone being present who does not disperse when so ordered by some one in authority, regardless of his actions. There is no justification for disorderly conduct at any college or university to the land and especially at BYU, the great educational institution of the Church.

BYU Summer School Sees 5,000 Students

Some 5,000 students are expected to spend their summer vacation school at BYU this year.

Dr. Keith R. Oakes, summer school director, attributed the large number to four reasons; students wanting to get their degrees in less than four years, veterans and returned missionaries wanting to enter school before fall, students needing to make up classes, or take courses which they could not fit into their schedules during regular school semesters, and Graduate students who want to work toward advanced degrees without interruption.

Summer school registration will take place June 14 in the Smith Fieldhouse for both sessions or just the first session. July 19 is the registration date for those signing up for only the second session.

REGISTRATION PACKETS will be prepared for those who have attended two previous summer schools and those who attend BYU during the 1965 spring semester.

Students in gold standing may register for six credit hours per session or a total of 12 credit hours for both sessions.

BYU WILL OFFER $30 courses in 31 academic departments to students remaining for summer school this year.

Twenty-five guest instructors will conduct classes or workshops during the two summer sessions. Dr. Keith R. Oakes, summer school director, said approximately 300 regular BYU faculty members will also remain through the summer.

IN ADDITION to the regular school classes, some 33 work shops and clinics will be held. Those offered will include: Affiliated Clinic for Boys (May 31-June 11) BYU Campus Education Week (June 7-10), Business Management Conference (June 7-11), Industrial Plastics Workshop (June 8-12), Modern Dance Workshop (June 7-11), Workshop for Secondary School Principals (June 9-11), Workshop in Child Development (June 21-July 2), Language Institute for Teaching German (June 14-17), Theater (June 14-17), Summer Music Clinic (July 26-August 7), and Outdoor Camping Workshop (June 25-July 5, August 6-16).

Class schedules and other workshops available for summer school 1963 can be found in the free summer catalog available at the summer school office in the Snoot Administration Bldg. or at the office at Special Courses and conferences in the Herald R. Clark Building.

Changes in the location of the various book collections in the Clark Library will cause more to the freshmen to feel new and lost.

THE LOCATION of specific reference materials, now on the main level, will be changed. These materials will be moved to the second level. The new location of the books with the necessary tools to give the students extensive help.

General reference materials will remain in the same location enabling students to receive help on an introductory level.

THE VAUNT AREA left by the reference materials will be filled by moving the Reserve Collection and the Undergraduate Reading Collection. The Reserve Collection, books put on a restricted-checkout length by a faculty member who wishes a large number of students to use the books, and the Undergraduate Reading Collection, books especially chosen for interest and value to undergraduates in their academic and recreational reading program, are heavily used materials. The move will make these books more accessible and easier to find.

Y Student Gets Award

John Bateman, fifth year engineering student from Ogden, Utah, won the American Society of Mechanical Engineers' Paper Eight paper contest held in Bozeman, Mont., last Saturday.

BYU'S ASME student chapter, represented by 21 students and 3 faculty members, brought home every trophy offered at the 11th annual meet. ASME chapters from Utah, N.M., Colo., Wyo., and Mont. saw BYU awarded the Bendix award, Man Mite Trophy, and the paper contest prize.

For Girls With Marriage On The Mind

The Department of Housing and Home Management has a program for girls who are planning to marry and want experience. THIS PROGRAM has been in effect since 1954 at BYU. Arrangement was made to use one of the Heritage Hall apartments. The girls would move to this apartment for a period and, under supervision, would get their training in how to manage a home.

Now the program has two houses where the girls stay five weeks. There are supervisors to guide them now too. Miss Karen Wheelwright (grad) is the supervisor at the Lindley house 535 E. 900 N. and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lane are supervisors at the Thomsen house 514 E. 1420 N.

THE PURPOSE of this period of "living in" is to provide an environment for the girls to "gain judgement" in decision making and to get practice in human relationships program.

Until this spring semester the program was open only to people in the College of Family Living. Now non-majors can attend. The only requirement is Home Management 300. Like all of the other attending they pay no rent, utilities during their stay. The only expense is for food, but hold expenses, and entertainment—a total of $50.

There is also a special program for married students. It offered the second block of spirit and fall semesters. These girls are not required to live the houses, but they follow the program with their husbands.

BYU Bookstore Provides Valuable Work Training

"We like to think the Bookstore is a workshop and training ground for the students that work here," explained the bookstore manager, Ivan L. Sanderson.

EMPLOYMENT in the bookstore not only brings in extra cash for the students working there but to many, it enables them to have practical experience in their college fields.

Kenneth G. Trane, a sophomore in accounting, works in the accounting department of the bookstore. He commented at his job with the bookstore that it helped him understand accounting theories in actual problems.

"PRINCIPLES LEARNED in school don't always happen in duty," he said. "My job here helps me to see the practical side accounting and also gives me experience in other areas."

David E. Bodwell is an accounting graduate working at the bookstore. Dave has worked in the accounting department about 3 1/2 years and after finishing his credits for graduation last semester, was made a full-time accountant.

"MANY TIMES I felt I learned more in my working hours than in my classes," Dave noted. He said the bookstore could probably work more efficiently without more employees, but they intend to give us experience and practical application in our job areas."

Carwin Y. Peterson, Barton Ence, and Walter J. Hillimo are responsible for purchasing, inventory, and pricing in the job areas of the bookstore. They are students who work with Gerald R. Walk, chief clerk.

CARWIN POINTED out that his experience gave him an insight into how business was run. "I've got to meet with Brother Anderson and Brother Walk to discuss the problems and operations of the bookstore," he said. Don Stewart, a senior who intends to go into personnel management, said that working in the bookstore allowed him to get the public and also gave him a valuable reference in securing a job later on.

"I AM INTERESTED in how managers work with people," he said. He said he looked very critically at the employees in the school supplies department.

Dennis V. Smith and David C. Wadsworth, two art majors, work on displays and holiday decorations. Thomas F. Mudrock, a senior in advertising, works with the photographs and is in charge of the layout of all the bookstore advertising.

SANDERSON said that the students hired to work in the general book areas were either English majors, minors of those who had a broad reading background.

One hundred and thirty-six students work part-time in the BYU Bookstore. Each student works about 20 hours a week.

Students employed at the bookstore are recommended through the BYU Placement Center in the Smoot Bldg.

TESTS, AND HOW THEY GREW

Just the other night I was saying to the little woman, "Do you think the importance of tests in American colleges is being overemphasized?" (Incidentally, the little woman is being overemphasized.) I said the little woman is far from a little woman. She is, in fact, nearly seven feet high and manly with rippling muscles. She is a full-blooded Ogallala Sioux and holds the world's shot put record. The little woman I referred to is someone we found crouching under the sofa when we moved into our apartment back in 1928, and there she has remained ever since. She never speaks except to make a kind of guttural clicking sound when she is hungry. To tell you the truth, she's not too much fun to have around the house, but with my wife away at track meets most of the time, at least it gives me someone to talk to.)

But I digress. "Do you think the importance of tests in American colleges is being overemphasized?" I said the other night to the little woman, and then I said, "Yes, Max, I do think the importance of tests in American colleges is being overemphasized." (As I explained, the little woman does not speak, so when we have conversations, I am forced to do both parts.)

But I digress. To get back to tests—sure, they're important, but let's not allow them to get too important. There are, after all, many talents which simply can't be measured by quizzes. Is it right to penalize a gifted student whose gifts don't happen to fall into an academic category? Like, for instance, Finster Sigafos?

She is a full-blooded Ogallala Sioux . . .

GOT A MAN'S JOB TO DO?

Get it done right. Get MAN-POWER... the new power-packed aerosol deodorant! MAN-POWER's got the stepped-up penetration power, the 24-hour styling power a man needs. Goes on fast... never sticky... dries in seconds. Try it! 1.00

BY THE MAKERS OF OLD SPICE | SHULTON

Finster, a freshman at the Wyoming College of Belles Letters and Fingerprint Identification, has never passed a single test; yet all who know him agree he is studded with talent like a ham with cloves. He can, for example, sleep standing up. He can do a perfect imitation of a scarlet tanager. (I don't mean just the bird calls; I mean he can fly south in the winter.) He can pick up BB's with his toes. He can say "toy boat" three times fast. He can build a rude telephone out of 100 yards of string and two empty Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blade packages. (This last accomplishment is the one Finster is proudest of—not building the telephone but emptying the Personna packs. To empty a Personna pack is not easily accomplished, believe you me, not if you're a person who likes to get full value out of his razor blades. And full value is just what Personna deliver. They last and last and keep on lasting; luxury shave follows luxury shave in numbers that make the mind boggle. Why don't you see for yourself? Personna are now available in two varieties: a brand-new stainless steel injector blade users of injector razors—and the familiar double-edge stainless steel blade so dear to the hearts and kind to the kissers of so many happy Americans, blades so smooth-shaving, so long-lasting that the Personna Co. makes the following guarantee: If you don't agree Personna gives you more luxury shaves than Beep-Beep or any other brand you might name, Personna will buy you a pack of whatever kind you think is better.)

But I digress. Back to Finster Sigafos—artist, humanist, philosopher, and freshman since 1938. Will the world ever benefit from Finster's great gifts? Alas, no. He is in college to stay.

But even more tragic for mankind is the case of Clare de Loon. Clare, a classmate of Finster's, had no talent, no gifts, no brains, no personality. All she had was a knack for taking tests. She would cram like mad before a test, always get a perfect score, and then promptly forget everything she had learned. Naturally, she graduated with high honors and degrees by the dozen, but the sad fact is that she left college no more educated and no more prepared to cope with the world than she was when she entered. Today, a broken woman, she crouches under my sofa.

Speaking of tests, see the makers of Personna®. But our blades through an impressive number before we send them to market. We also make—and this is highly test—an aerosol shave that soaks rings around any other lather: Burma Shave®, regular and menthol.

Civil Engineers Cited

For the third consecutive year the BYU chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers had received a certificate of commendation from the national organization, according to D. Allen Firmage, faculty advisor.

ONLY ONE other western school and only five student chapters throughout the nation have won the commendation award for the last three years.

The award was granted by Wallace Chadwick, Los Angeles, Calif., national president of ASCE.

The award was one of four granted to 24 colleges or universities in the western states. The award is given for activity and overall excellence.

Twenty of these awards were granted nationally among 145 student chapters.

Over To Appear in Portland Panel

Dr. Robert H. Slover, associate professor of political science at BYU, will appear as a panelist at the National Conference of Military Government Association in Portland, Ore., May 22.

Dr. Slover joined the BYU faculty this semester after resigning from the United States Army with the rank of Colonel, serving in Korea and Japan and the office of the deputy chief of staff in the Pentagon.

Dr. Slover will appear on two panels, "The Future Employment of Civil Affairs Specialists" and "Civil Affairs: Current State of the Art."

Simonsen In Charge...

New Graduate Program

Industries will assist promising engineers and scientists to obtain post-graduate degrees in a new program announced recently by President Ernest L. Wilkinson.

HE EXPLAINED that under the plan an industry will establish with BYU a fellowship about equivalent to the salary it would pay one of its graduate engineers or scientists.

Part of the money would go for tuition and the rest to the student to support him and his family.

DR. JOHN SIMONSEN, research coordinator of the College of Physical and Engineering Sciences at BYU, was named director of the program.

Dr. Simonsen said that one-third of the candidates for the graduate degrees are working full time in industry and going to school part time. This takes several years. Under the new arrangement, the company would send the employee to school and get him through in a year, specifying the area of study.

BY THIS METHOD, companies may also send older workers and bring them up to date on new information and procedures.

The program can help the industry to upgrade its technical staff, to solve problems and to keep staff in touch with latest developments, Dr. Simonsen said.

Call Out The Marines

by Stan Hodge, Sports Editor

Some college football coaches go through all sorts of involved procedures to put together a football team.

But BYU grid boss, Tommy Hudspeth, seems (by the appearances of the alumni game Saturday) to have by-passed a lot of those problems and simplified the process: He called on the Marines.

Of the eight San Diego Marine gridders three of them stood out above all performers in the spring classic.

Halls Of Montezuma To Shores Of BYU

The top man had to be flankerback Casey Boyette who played with the Alumni squad. Boyette, a red-shirt on next year's varsity squad, looked like one of the finest receivers at BYU in recent campaigns.

Mr. Hodge

But second only to Boyette has got to be another former Deviloid, Phil Odle. Odle's not redshirting either and the combination of Carter-to-Odle seemed to work out real well.

Bob Cain, another of the eight, seems to have a little of the greased lightning so obviously lacking on the varsity squad last year. On one occasion he brought fans to their feet returning an intercepted pass to the Alumni 11 from his own 32-yard line.

Coach Hudspeth didn't stop with eight ex-marines however, he's got two more yet who are expected to enroll before fall.

All in all Hudspeth seemed pleased with victory, but somewhat disappointed in the team's overall showing.

"They just weren't hitting," he said, "even the Alumni admitted that. We've had harder practices than this game."

Basic fundamentals however appeared to be well-learned and what faults the coaching staff found Saturday night will undoubtedly be corrected before the fall season starts at Arizona State Sept. 18.

Paul James Switches Loyalties

To be sure the Alumni looked great. But who wouldn't when the pressure's off. "They're out for a good time," said Paul James who will be announcing Cougar sports next season, "and anytime you go out to have fun you're going to look great. That's when you make the fantastic catches and the marvelous tackles."

After working with Utah for the many years he has, one would think the switch to BYU would be a little rough for James (a graduate of BYU's sister institution to the north). James, however, was reassuring as he commented, "You develop a patriotism of sorts for any team you're working with at the present time. You learn to be objective and then the change isn't too hard."

Varsity Eleven Surges Past Alumni With Two Third Quarter Touchdowns

by Gary Wood
Asst. Sports Editor

Eleven and a half thousand football fans witnessed a surprisingly well-played tussle Saturday night between the BYU Varsity and Alumni. Down by 7-6 at half-time, Coach Tom Hudspeth's eleven found the spark to overcome the grade, 26-14.

LED BY FULLBACK John Ogden who carried the ball 13 times for 55 yards, the Varsity racked up 144 yards rushing while the Alumni relied on its aerial attack, completing 15 of 40 for 197 yards.

THE VARSITY received the opening kickoff and marched 64 yards for the score, mainly on the strength of two Carter tosses to wingback Steve Odell.

After Carter sneaked over on a keeper from the one-yard line, the try for point was blocked by the Alumni line.

TWO SERIES of downs later, former BYU All American Eldon Fortie directed the alumni to the six inch line with his passing, the principal gainer coming on a 30 yarder to end Bruce Smith. Nyle MacFarlane's line buck and Frank Baker's Pat put the Alumni in the lead 7-6 as the first quarter ended.

THE SECOND quarter was played to a standoff, and in the second half, after the Varsity was forced to punt, Carter fumbled the ball on his own 32 yard line.

From there Fortie moved the blue-clad alumni to the 22 and then hit Smith with a look-in pass for a TD. Baker again split the uprights to make it 14-6.

THE VARSITY was for it through. Kent Oborn, taking kickoff on his four yard line, right and with great block outran the ex-cougars all way to pay dirt. On the two-attempt, Steve Ogden dropped ball but picked it up and ran into the end zone to tie the score.

Fortie was thrown for two big passes trying to pass and McFarland quickly kicked on third down, the Varsity 23.

JOHN OGDEN hit the line for a first down on the 40. In Carter hit newcomer Philie on the Alumni 45 and Odie aged it to the 30. Henry Nawag replaced John Ogdien in the field and found a hole in the Alumni line for a 23 yard gain.

A pitchout to Green netted 2 the five yard line, then John Sen hit center for two more. After then flipped a pass to be in the end zone for the good score. Brewster's kick was 40, leaving the count at 20-14. Two exchanges later Bob Cain intercepted a pass by Carroll Hampton. Fortie's replacement rambled to the Alumni 12. In Green twisted his way into the end zone for the score.

Cougars Split Double Header

BYU split a doubleheader @Weber State at Logan Springs, dropping the first one, 5-0, after coming back in the second, 13-0.

ON FRIDAY, the Cougars took both ends of a twin-bill from Weber State at Ogden.

The Cougars have just five more games listed on their schedule before they close out the season. And these are the most important of all. BYU travels to Laramie, Wyo., next week end for an all-important three-game series with the Conquies.

MESA COLLEGE comes into Provo on Tuesday for a delayed twin-bill with BYU for the Cougars' last scheduled home game of the 1963 season.

Storming Utes Rake Cats In Tennis, Golf

Utah's golf and tennis teams ranked BYU over the cougars in the last pre-conference competition last weekend.

THE BYU netters fell to the Ute racketeers 6-3 for the second time in the space of a week. Utah has now defeated every conference opponent in dual play except Arizona State. ASU could be the Ute's biggest threat in the tournament with a 19-0 record.

Utah will have top seeding all the way down the line however, and it will be a decided advantage.

IN GOLF THE Utes finally managed to reverse the BYU aces after chipping away at them all season long. In working the Cats over on the Bonneville links the Utes gave warning that they will not be ignored next weekend.

The 171-94 upset was the worst setback the Cougars have had this season after winning the Pike's Peak Tournament and placing second in the Northern California Collegiate Invitational. BUD ALLIN OF BYU and John Steve Thayne tied for medalist honors with 75 scores for the day, playing in strong wind and intermittent rain.

Utah will be a definite dark-horse in the conference meet at Albuquerque Friday and Saturday, but BYU, Arizona and defending champ New Mexico are expected to battle it out for the title.

Thinclads Romp Again; Win Third Beehive Title

BYU's devastating strength in the running events was instrumental in the Cougars' third straight Beehive Invitational championship.

AS THE BLUE and white thinclads swept to first place finishes in all of the track races except the high hurdles, tied performers Ted Winfield and Mike Bianco won easy victories in the high jump and shot put, and Paul Skowron soared 19' 6" in the pole vault.

The Puma total of 12 first places in the 18 events gave them 911 points to Arizona's 46. Follow in order were: Utah 41, Colorado State 23, and Utah State and Wyoming 21 apiece.

A MYRIAD of stadium, Beehive and BYU school records were broken as the athletes tuned up for Conference championships and post-season meets. Skowron, increasing his lifetime best by almost six inches, established new standards in all three categories. The previous BYU mark was the 14' 6" vault by Danny Boyle in 1963.

TIM RUSSELL, the meet's only double winner, tied Cy Ellsworth's school record of :21.0 in the 220 yard dash. He won the 100 in :39.8.

Utah State's great Gerry Cerrila chalked up meet and stadium records in the high hurdles with a 1:36 in the time trials, breaking the old standards of :13.9 and :14.1.

100—Russell, Y; Williams, U; Coleman, A 7:09.8.

Fighter Dies After KO

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Heavyweight Sonny Banks, one of the few fighters ever to floor Gus Clay, the heavyweight champion, died of a head injury 2 1/2 days after he was knocked out in a bout here Monday.

BANKS was knocked by Leo Martin of Philadelphia with a left in the ninth round of a fight at 10 o'clock.

He regained consciousness about 20 minutes later but was taken to Presbyterian Hospital.

When he lapsed into unconsciousness again, Dr. Robert S. Evans, a Philadelphia neurosurgeon, operated to remove a blood clot. Banks was in a coma after surgery until his death at 8 a.m. EDT.

BANKS HAD the reputation of a slugger with 18 knockouts in six by decision—in 27 professional fights. He never lost an amateur bout. In Feb. 1962 he knocked Clay off his feet, but lost the bout by a knockout in the fourth round. Banks' death was the second fatal fatality this year. Jerry Jones, a 17-year-old novice boxer, died Jan. 14 in a Youngstown

Joe Namath Set for Insurance Job
CHICAGO (AP) — Joe Namath, the Alabama quarterback who signed with the New York Jets for a cool $400,000, officially announced that he will manage insurance offices in two cities.

PARENTS having sought counsel of some wise men, the college super-star soon open offices in Birmingham, Ala. and Pittsburgh, near his home. Namath that he would devote full time to the insurance business and not actively playing football.

He finished classes at Alabama this spring.

Namath will not, though, state from the school he led to football fame and fortune.

He lacks about 10 hours credit towards graduation. He hopes to complete the necessary work for his degree later date.

He now famous "Namath" on which his whole career hinged for a time last is now reportedly back in school. This means that the Jets will be able to scrutinize his abilities, along with those of the Dame's Johnny Haute, spring training begins in Ohio hospital after collapsing during a Golden Gloves fight. The coroner ruled the high school senior died of a heart attack, not from a blow.

DR. ANDRE ruled out Martin's finishing punch as the direct cause of Banks' death. The knockout punch hit Banks under the left ear, near the hinge of the jaw. He sank to the floor near his corner, finally striking his head on the floor in front of one of the judges.

The Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission said Banks and Martin were examined by its medical staff at the official weigh-in and that nothing was detected which would indicate their lives or well being were in any danger.

Banks' manager, Ted Ewald, of Grosse Point, Mich., said the Negro fighter from Detroit had never suffered serious injury in a fight before. In his last fight at Houston, Tex., July 21, 1964, he was knocked out in the sixth round by Cleveland Williams.

Mathews Sets New Record

CINCINNATI, OHIO (AP) — The National League Service Bureau recently released official figures showing that Eddie Mathews of the Milwaukee Braves set a new league record for games played by a third baseman.

THE NEW STANDARD was set in the nightcap of a doubleheader between the Braves and the Philadelphia Phillies on May 2. Mathews tied the record of 1864 held by Phil Traynor of the Pittsburgh Pirates (1921-37) in the opening game of that twin-bill and then established a new mark in the second contest.

The veteran Braves' third baseman played his first major league game in 1952, the year the team moved from Boston to Milwaukee. Mathews is now the only team member still "surviving" that made the move from the New England City to Milwaukee.

If he stays with the club through next year, he'll have another record to be proud of. He will have stayed with the same club while it meandered through three franchises. The Braves set out for Atlanta, Ga. in 1966.
